PUBLIC DISCLOSURE

Be advised: any information and documents that you submit to the Commission are subject to public records laws and will be available to anyone who requests them.

This includes medical and other types of private records.

Therefore, it is in your best interest not to submit anything unless requested by your investigator.

The Washington State Human Rights Commission (WSHRC) has no jurisdiction to investigate complaints against the following: employers with fewer than 8 employees; Native American tribes; the federal government; or complaints otherwise outside the WSHRC's statutory authority. This includes, but is not limited to, complaints in which the last date of harm occurred more than 6 months prior to the filing date of the complaint, or more than 2 years prior in the case of a state-employee whistle-blower retaliation claim.

Complaints that do not meet jurisdictional requirements, including complaints where the allegations of the complaint, if true, show no basis for commission action after preliminary evaluation, will not be accepted for investigation.

I want to file a charge of discrimination. I authorize the WSHRC to look into the discrimination I described in this Complaint Questionnaire.

I understand that if my claim does not meet jurisdictional requirements, it will not be accepted for investigation and that there will be no follow-up on this inquiry from the WSHRC.

Please review the form BEFORE digitally signing. Once digitally signed, you will not be able to edit the document. If you're having difficulty creating or signing digitally, a physical signature can be used.
